

“Stand Back,” Said the Elephant, “I’m Going to Sneeze!”

by Patricia Thomas

Beautiful pen and watercolor illustrations and comical poetic verse tell the story of a jungle in a panic when the elephant announces he needs to sneeze.

Read

Before:

Introduce the book and tell the children a little bit about it. Follow with a comment or question that is related to the story such as, Do you think an elephant sneeze sounds anything like a human sneeze? Encourage a discussion so the children can comment, ask questions, and express their feelings. Set the stage for listening by asking an “I wonder” statement based on the cover illustration.

- I wonder why the animals are all running?

During:

Encourage the children to comment on the illustrations, ask questions, and predict what will happen next in the story. Children gain confidence and a sense of achievement through being able to correctly predict how a story will end. Point out “rare words” (e.g., those words that are not commonly used in every day conversation) and help the children relate the meaning in a way that makes sense to them.

Rare Words in “Stand Back,” Said the Elephant, “I’m Going to Sneeze!”

- trunk: the long muscular nose of an elephant, used for grasping and feeding
- jouncing: move while bouncing
- gale: strong wind
- hurricane: severe tropical storm with torrential rain and extremely strong winds
- whirling: turn or spin rapidly
- parakeet: small tropical parrot that has a long tail and is brightly colored
- peacocks: a bird with a large fan-shaped tail with bright blue feathers
- cockatoo: a parrot with white or light-colored feathers
- declare: announce something clearly and loudly
- scales: flaky substance that cover the outside of fish and other water animals
- gills: breathing organ of fish
- prickle: tingling or stinging sensation
- astounding: to overwhelm and stun somebody with sudden surprise
- confounding: bewilder somebody, to puzzle or confuse
- guffawed: to laugh loudly and raucously
- chortled: a noisy gleeful laugh
- quivering: to shake rapidly with small movements
- quaking: to shake or rock from instability or from a disturbance

After:

Discuss the story. Ask questions...

- Why did the elephant warn everybody that he was going to sneeze?
- What happened to the monkeys the last time the elephant sneezed?
- Why didn't the birds want him to sneeze? The bees? The bear?
- Why did the fish' scales fall off last time?
- What happened to the leopard's spots and the zebra's stripes?
- What did the mouse do to the elephant?
- How did the elephant react to the mouse?
- What happened to all the animals when the elephant started to laugh?

Do

Match the Paw Prints

Hand each child the Whose Prints are These? sheet and help the children match the animal to the correct print. If desired, the children can color the animals once they have completed the activity.

My Name: _____

Whose Prints are These?

Draw a line from the animal to the correct print

